STACKING GAME WITH FRIENDS

This traditional game is played throughout Algeria and is best played with 4+ people. While usually played by stacking flat rocks, cups have been used as a substitution. The more cups used, the more difficult the game will be.

WHAT YOU NEED: CHALK · 1 VERY SOFT BALL · 4 TO 10 CUPS

1. Draw a large square on the ground using chalk!

2. Divide into two teams. Using the ball, "Team A" will knock the stack of cups over while everyone stands outside the square. Once it falls, "Team B" will rush to the center to rebuild.

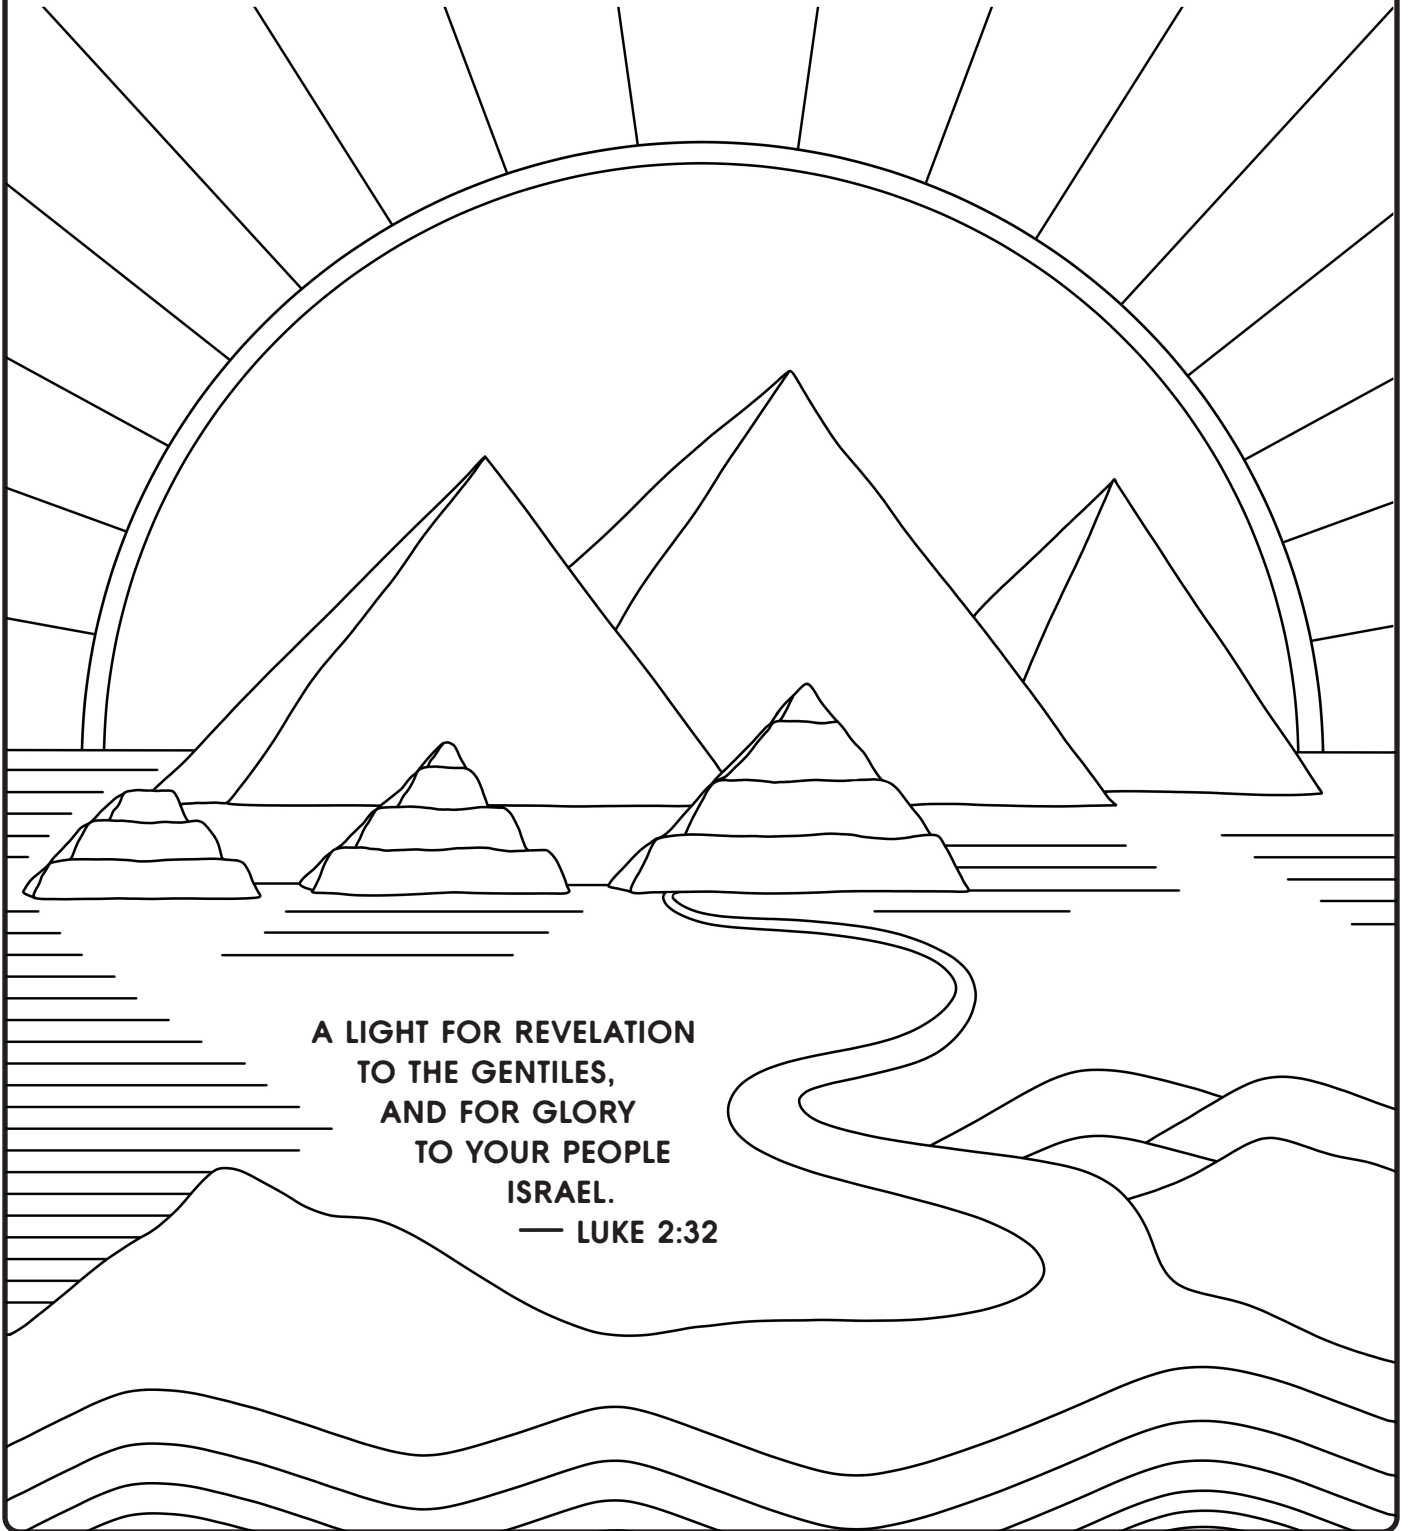

3. "Team A" will stand outside the square and take turns throwing the ball at "Team B." Once hit, that player must exit the square.

4. "Team B" wins by stacking the cups again. "Team A" wins by hitting every member of "Team B" with the ball before they can restack!

HOW TO DRAW

A fennec fox from Egypt

1. Start with two ears by drawing curved lines that come to a point on each side. Draw a frown-shape across the bottom of each ear.

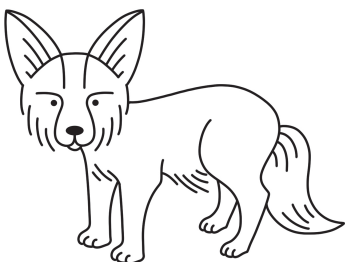

2. Inside each ear, draw four lines with the one closest to the middle touching the point. Sketch a nose and two circle eyes. From the bottom middle, continue lines on either side of the nose and then around the eyes. Draw a curved line for the back.

3. Complete the face with hair on each cheek and a smile-shape under the nose. Draw the front and back leg, giving three toes for each.

4. Behind the legs just drawn, draw two shorter legs that match. Sketch hair on the chest and belly of the fox.

5. Finish the fox by adding a bushy tail. Sketch small lines on the tail to look like hair.

HIEROGLYPHICS PUZZLE

Hieroglyphics was a traditional communication form in Egypt that used symbols to express ideas in writing and was often carved into stone. Above each symbol, write the matching letter on the line to complete the Bible verse.
